Re: Lawrence Fourkiller

To Whom it May Concern,

I had previously written a Character Letter on Lawrence's behalf dated July 20, 2023. At that time, I honestly thought this awful chapter in his and his family's life as well as the accusers would be over by now. I have steadfastly stood by Lawrence and His family and will continue to do so, even with Lawrence's voluntary plea.

The following is an excerpt from my previous character letter;

"I know words on a page are just words, and it is hard for me to truly explain what a good person Lawrence is. You just must be around him for a little while before you understand what I mean about "patient" and "gentle spirit". To truly know a person, you first must witness them go through different events and trials in their lives and how they conduct themselves when they don't realize you are watching. That is a human trait we all have, we are "people watchers" or at least I am, and over the past 20+ years knowing Lawrence he carries himself with respect and respect of others and those around him, he carries with him that patience of Job, he carries with him that gentle spirit. All this I have gleaned from watching, during church events, community events, sporting events, and being on mission trips with Lawrence and his family."

Considering the recent events and the plea of guilty that was entered, I still wholeheartedly stand by what I said previously. Lawrence possesses that patient and gentle spirit, I have never known him not to be kind, gentle and caring for others. Out of all the members of our church, Lawrence came to our home and brought food to our family and to check on us a couple days last June after I had a major surgery. No one else came from our congregation but Lawrence did, that shows me that he puts others before himself and Lawrence has always done that.

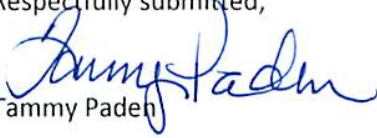

When we were notified of Lawrence's intentions to take the plea deal, I personally was shocked, I wanted him to fight ! Fight for his rights, for his voice to be heard, for his side to be told, for our support to be shown. Now that he has entered that plea, made that momentous decision that I am sure was the hardest decision of his life, shows Lawrence's patient and gentle spirit. The spirit that dwells inside him that reminds him (and those that are born again believers) of what Christ did for us on the cross. I am sure heavy conviction has come upon Lawrence's heart and life if he has chosen to enter a plea that will change the course of not only his life but the the lives of his family. Lawrence is the type of person that I believe would not want any more undue hurt and turmoil to come out of a long-drawn court trial. To put his family and those of the accusers through no doubt a living nightmare. Unfortunately, social media and busy bodies in our community has created enough of a nightmare for Lawrence's family.

I pray that this character letter makes some sense to those in authority who will be reading it. it is hard to explain on paper exactly how I view Lawrence, how I see his character. Honestly this has been a struggle to write, not that I don't support Lawrence or his family, I always will. But what is on my heart is this, I feel Lawrence hasn't fought to get out of incarceration because he feels if he is removed from society, he won't be viewed as a threat any longer. That healing can begin on both sides, that God shut the mouths of the lions, all this knowing the cost would be his life away from his family. That speaks to his character in a positive way as hard as it has been and will be for all of them. I pray complete healing can begin for everyone involved, whether it be physical, mental or spiritual.

Thank you for your time and consideration.

Respectfully submitted,

My name is Timothy and I would like to speak a moment to the Court and anyone who pleases to hear, I would like to speak on the charter of Lawrence Fourkiller and the figure of man he is, and his Faith in Jesus Christ. So I met Mr. Fourkiller in September of 2023, ^{upon} ~~open~~ meeting him, he had a warm welcoming charter about him, a charter that this man is a genuine in wanting to help other, He gives his time in giving the LORD's word Monday thro Friday every day to inmates that he watches some of them walk out of Bible study (church) to start doing things the LORD speaks against, just for him to return the next day to give the word of God again, knowing that he may not even be heard. Mr. Fourkiller as well gives out of his own pocket to make sure others (inmates) have things, such as welcoming gifts or just a heart felt warming Gift, showing a man who maybe feeling alone or even scared someone cares enough to notice them and show them a Warming Smile and a lovely conversation. I've seen Mr. Fourkiller give food to other inmates to help feed them, knowing we all are going hungry in here not getting enough to eat, but him trust in The LORD his Savior to sustain him, just to make sure someone else doesn't suffer. I've seen Mr. Fourkiller give up his time of doing something to set and listen to an Inmate speak or vent or get even angry, just to be that Loving Preacher for a man to cry out to, (one being myself), ~~just to~~ then to see the person walk away uplift and knowing someone cared. Mr. Fourkiller's figure of a man or personality is so joyfull to be around he is a man who keeps other inmates smiling and laughing the kinda man that will set down at a table to learn a new card game, not for the card game but to make sure no one at that time is struggling or needing prayer. Just to be a friend... I've heard Mr. Fourkiller Lifting other inmates up in prayer to bridge a gap between them and God. I've also watched him grow in his faith and walk with the LORD in breaking free of the chains of religion and sin Making him even more of a meek servant for Christ. Mr. Fourkiller has helped so many of us the Inmates even myself in this pod, all the while us knowing he is suffering and going through his own battles, but putting them aside to help others. That is a true faithful man of God. I'm not sure of the man Mr. Fourkiller was before Jail, besides seeing from video calls with his wife and daughters, being a huge family man and an amazing dad to his children, and a loving husband to a amazing sounding wife who stands for him and their family and Church. I do know the Man that I have watched grow and change in side this Pod and seeing that in being Locked down with a man 24/7 is saying this man must only be a true loving child of God. I would like to close in saying thank you for your time in hearing, and ask the court to be lead with God in their hearts on sentencing Mr Fourkiller not to a time of 35 years but to allow God to truly guide you in the time given here, because I believe God is not ask for such a great servant to be Locked away from Society for such amount of time, knowing if he can have an impact on men Society deems unfit, I know God will use him to make Society a better more loving place. I also know we all can see our Society needs more disciples as the man that stands before you today, not the man that was put in Jail. ~~This man is not a servant in Christ and not a good person is giving up his life in fighting to save~~ ~~himself.~~

Again I would like to thank you for your time in hearing and I pray God will lead your heart in this matter of sentencing, Thank you.

1. The first part of the paper is a review of the literature on the topic of the effects of the environment on human health. This section is divided into two main parts: the first part discusses the physical environment, and the second part discusses the social environment. The physical environment includes factors such as air pollution, water pollution, and noise. The social environment includes factors such as poverty, social inequality, and access to healthcare.

2. The second part of the paper is a discussion of the methods used in the study. This section is divided into two main parts: the first part discusses the data sources, and the second part discusses the statistical methods. The data sources include national surveys, local health data, and environmental data. The statistical methods include regression analysis, correlation analysis, and time series analysis.

3. The third part of the paper is a discussion of the results of the study. This section is divided into two main parts: the first part discusses the findings on the physical environment, and the second part discusses the findings on the social environment. The findings on the physical environment show that there is a strong link between air pollution and respiratory diseases, and between water pollution and gastrointestinal diseases. The findings on the social environment show that there is a strong link between poverty and poor health outcomes, and between social inequality and poor health outcomes.

4. The fourth part of the paper is a conclusion and a discussion of the implications of the study. This section is divided into two main parts: the first part discusses the conclusions, and the second part discusses the implications. The conclusions show that the environment has a significant impact on human health, and that the social environment is also an important factor. The implications show that there is a need for further research on the effects of the environment on human health, and that there is a need for policies to improve the environment and reduce social inequality.

To Whom It May Concern,

I have known Lawrence Fourkiller through church for over ten years. We started attending the same church where him and his family were already members. Our family and his have been on a couple of mission trips with our church and I've observed him working and caring for the people in need. He has always been friendly, polite, and I consider him a good friend. I was both troubled and surprised to hear of the case against him because he has always been a solid person. It's for this reason I am happy to write a character letter for Lawrence. I understand the seriousness of this conviction and have been praying for everyone this has affected.

Lawrence Fourkiller is, in short, a good person whom I consider a friend. He has been kind and generous with others, and has a strong sense of duty, which applies to his family, community and church. He is a very present husband and father who loves his family. He also is available to help where there is a need at church no matter what that need is. I have heard from our pastor that Lawrence is having bible studies with other inmates along with helping them study for their GED. This is who I know that Lawrence is.

I feel Lawrence possesses a great deal of integrity and constantly strives to make sure he is doing the right thing and I hope this letter gives you some idea on the person he is when time for his sentencing.

Sincerely,

Vivian Goodrich
